THE ROAD NOT TAKEN

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;
Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,
And both that morning equally lay

In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.
I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I —
I took the one less traveled by,
And that made all the difference.

OPERATING ROOM TECH CHRISTMAS PARTY 1989

College Student /cal-ij st(y)udent n 1: one who attends school and studies at an independent institution of higher learning 2: uncontrollable party animal 3: volunteer alcohol tester

I thought choosing my college was different. I found out “admitting” my choice to others was even more difficult.

Friends would raise names like SMU, Berkley, Nichols, MIT, Holy Cross, University of Lowell, etc. When I was asked where I was going after high school graduation I’d sort of mumble Essex Aggie and quickly change the subject.

Well, I got involved in as many activities as possible, met new friends, broadened my education, and had a great time doing it.

With all my student activities, work, and a social life, I’ve spread myself very thin, but I wouldn’t trade this past year for anything; (well, maybe a gallon of chocolate chip and some sleep)!

I now know that you can get a good education without sparing the fun, and you don’t have to go to Harvard to do it.

I hope you had as much fun as I did and learned as much about yourself as you did about your school this year.

Good luck in your future, as it is now upon us.
